

Join us for the ADCA 2020 AGM, Saturday, October 10, 2020 at 2:00pm CST.

Hello ADCA Members,

It is time for the Annual General Meeting (AGM) for 2020! In recent years, the AGM has been part of our national show and expo, where members of our association would gather together, in person, at a centralized location. Due to Covid-19, we had to cancel our national expo, forcing us to search alternative means to support our very important AGM. The board has decided to use a virtual or online platform this year (using Zoom collaboration tool). This platform will have its challenges, but we believe it will be the most effective and safest way to communicate with our national membership. The board will present various association information, to include such topics as financials, committee updates, awards, announcements etc. Participating members will be given the opportunity to ask the board questions and vote during the meeting.

- Who is invited: The ADCA Board of Directors (Regional Directors and Officers), participating members and general public.
- What: 2020 ADCA Annual General Meeting
- When: Saturday, October 10th, 2020 @ 2:00pm (CST)
**The Invitation is found at the Bottom of this email**
- Where: Zoom virtual conference call and live streaming to Facebook

Three ways you can participate with this invitation:

1. You can directly join the Zoom meeting by simply clicking on the join meeting link in the email (you will be asked to do a 30 sec download first.) This option allows you to ask type questions directly in the meeting chat, where the board will be monitoring questions. You will be able to participate in instant polling questions. You will be able to see the documents displayed during the meeting. The participant video and sound will be off so you don't have to worry about being on camera.
2. You can watch the meeting on the ADCA Facebook page where we will be live streaming the meeting. You can put comments in the Facebook post for board members to review during the meeting.
3. The last option is the least interactive. You can call the Zoom Dial In phone numbers listed in the invitation. This option will only allow you to listen to the speakers.

If you are able to join the live meeting, please understand we will have all participants video off and sound muted during the meeting, to maintain the meeting schedule. We will be monitoring the chat window and Facebook post, for any questions coming through to the board. We cannot guarantee that we will get to every question, but we will certainly do our best to organize and address member questions as they come in.

We hope that you are able to join the association in the AGM!
Reach out to your Regional Directors with any questions.

Thank you,

ADCA Board of Directors
